

In March, the Patriots Point Development Authority Board voted to recycle the ex-USS Clamagore submarine due to safety and environmental concerns. The decision came after more than a decade of examining alternative options. Since the announcement, we have received several questions about the boat's current status. Here's a video that dives deep into the project.

https://youtu.be/e\_5RAOYsjko